Diverse, in partnership with O'Donnell Griffin, was responsible for the initial TransAct south Canberra roll out of the major fibre cable infrastructure which included many kilometres of underground and aerial cabling. Diverse supplied and installed the pit & pipe network also the splicing and testing of overhead and underground fibre optical cabling to the TransAct super nodes and local nodes to the following suburbs; Red Hill, Griffith, Farrer, Mawson, Wanniasa, Oxley and Monash, to name a few.

Martin Corby was the PM, his comments are: "My experiences with over 17 years with Telstra assisted in Diverse undertaking this work with extreme confidence. We undertook this work with an understanding that TransACT had committed to the provision of services to their pre-subscribed customers. We delivered each project segment on time. This was part of Diverse's Service Level Agreement with TransACT and we never missed an SLA"
